This is because for some reason PrivateInfo.exe and the program itself is taken down from the official REM site, and the links not resolving. As far as we ALLREALLY know, the file is not taken down from the site, and simply disappears when you press the link to download the file. If you are in the site, you accidentally exit out of it, and then cannot go back on. This means you cannot open the link to download the REM file. Please do not email me links which do not work, thanks.
